

Credit Analyst

About Stamford

Stamford Capital is Australia's largest independent commercial finance brokerage firm, having placed in excess of $2.5 billion dollars of debt in FY24 for our valued clients. We work closely with our clients which predominantly consist of property developers and investors alike, advising and arranging market leading debt and equity terms for their projects.

Stamford maintains offices in Sydney, Melbourne, Brisbane, Adelaide and Perth with Sydney being our headquarters. Due to our ongoing growth, we are seeking a Credit Analyst to join our recently opened Perth office.

This role will provide the successful candidate with wide-ranging experience spanning all commercial property asset classes and various segments within the capital stack. Our organisation operates with a flat management structure within a vibrant yet diligent working environment.

This role is a great opportunity to:

- Gain comprehensive knowledge of Commercial Property Finance from the ground up.
- Oversee transactions from mandate to settlement.
- Evaluate transactional opportunities.
- Develop Financial models.
- Prepare mandates and Information Memorandums.
- Collaborate with clients, lenders, and other industry stakeholders.

About the candidate:

- The ideal candidate will have either completed or made significant progress towards a university degree in Finance and/or Property.
- While not mandatory, experience in commercial real estate or property finance is desirable.
- Strong analytical, written, and verbal skills are essential to effectively communicate with internal team members and clients.
- We are seeking a quick learner with a keen eye for detail and a genuine passion for real estate and finance.

If you're interested in applying for this role, please send your CV to barbara.kekatos@stamfordcapital.com.au.
